BIG SANDY RIVER.

Fate of the Lock and Dam Project

Will Soon be Settled by a Special Board of United States Engineers.

Whether the improvement of the Big Sandy River, as mapped out by the Government a number of years ago, will be completed or abandoned will be determined within the next few weeks by a special Board of United States Engineers, which has been designated by Chief Engineer Brigadier General Dixby, of Washington, D. C., to make a re-examination of the upper branches of the stream. This board will consist of Major Louis Rand, U. S. Engineer in Charge Cincinnati District No. 2, Corps of Engineers; Colonel H. C. Newcomer, formerly stationed at Pittsburg, now connected with the Chief Engineer's office at Washington, and Colonel Dan C. Kingman, of Savannah, Ga.

Since the improvement of the Big Sandy was provided for by Congress so as to afford an outlet for the coal and mineral product of the mines in Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia two railroads have been built into that section of the country, and are now meeting the transportation demand of the operators of the district. As a result certain operators and Congressmen at Washington want to know whether or not the improvements contemplated for the upper branches of the Big Sandy are actually needed, and it is to determine this question that the special board has been appointed.

A portion of the improvements planned by the Government have been completed. These include three locks and dams in the lower river, one in each of the upper branches, but if the special board, after making its examination and survey of the river, find that the improvements are not desirable it is probable that they will never be constructed, and the entire remainder of the original plans for the Big Sandy River improvements will be given up.

"JIMMIE" ALLISON.

Louisians who lived in this city during "the war" will remember a man named "Jimmie" Allison, who came here from Ironton as a drummer boy. He came with an Ohio regiment of volunteers and, if the story is not misinformed, remained in the service until the close of the war. He was an intelligent man and while in Louisiana became a favorite. Shortly after the close of the war young Allison was drafted by the President a cadet at West Point. He was graduated from the army as a Second Lieutenant. He saw service in the Indian war and was duly promoted until he reached the rank of Colonel. A time ago he was retired from duty, and on account of his war service, and in accordance with law, he was retired with the rank of Brigadier General and will receive three-fourths pay as such as he lives.

BIRTHDAY PARTIES.

The birthdays of two popular Louisians were duly celebrated last week. On Thursday, the birthday of Miss Mamie Sullivan became a day of festivity, and on Friday, the 23rd, George McClure reached 17. With many tokens of esteem from friends and the usual refreshments and pleasant to all.

The Streets and Alleys.

Some of the streets of Louisa are receiving the attention which should have been given to them long ago. Ditches have been drained so the sunlight could get to the bottom and destroy the germs and malarious poison that were infesting them. A few days of good work, aided by sun and air, will make the condition of the streets decidedly less unsanitary. The work being done will do much good along the lines of health and appearance, but the principal cause of stagnant pools and the unhealthy state of our thoroughfares still remains. The trouble began over 40 years ago. In the summer of 1869 or thereabouts a survey of the town was made and the result was accepted more or less willingly as the proper location of the streets and alleys of the town of Louisa. A mistake was made in not having the engineer establish a grade to which all work on the town's highways should be made to conform. From that time to the present every man who has stuck a spade into the streets by way of improvement has done the work as he or some one has directed. The consequence is that the water in the gutters flows, when it flows at all, toward every point of the compass, and so it will continue to do until there is some definite grade established and maintained.

ROBBED AND SHOT.

Chris Bowen Assaulted by Negroes Near Fort Gay.

On Sunday night last about 8:00 o'clock, Chris Bowen, white, aged about 25, was assaulted by a gang of negroes, shot and robbed of about eighteen dollars and left for dead. The scene of the murderous attack was not far from the home of William Lyan, on the N. & W. railroad some two miles below the town of Ft. Gay. His cries brought Lyan and a neighbor named Saulsberry to the spot. They summoned help, and Bowen was carried to Ft. Gay where he was attended by Dr. Jay Bartram and cared for until the next day, when he was brought to River-view hospital where he will remain until he can be removed to his home at Hatfield, W. Va. Bowen's wife is with her husband, having come Tuesday.

Bowen says he was riding on the front end of a "gondola" coal car on which four negroes were also riding. One of them approached him and asked him for a match to light a cigarette. While he was furnishing the light the three other blacks approached. Bowen says he paid no attention to them, but as he was turning away two of them covered him with pistols and ordered him to throw up his hands. He did as he was ordered, and the highwaymen stripped him of his money, the eighteen dollars mentioned and a few cents besides. Bowen says the robbers seized him and tried to drop him over the front of the car in order that he would be crushed and mangled and in this way lead to the supposition that he had been run over and killed. In some way he got out of their clutches and climbed over the side when, just as his foot had reached the stirrup of the car both the men with the pistols fired. One bullet whistled by his ear, but a second one reached its mark. It entered the left side of his chest, not far below the collar bone, ranging down and back, fracturing a lower rib and lodging in one of the large muscles of the back from which it has been extracted. It is thought that the would-be murderers belonged to the extra force gang which is at work not far from Glen Hayes. Bowen was born in this county not far from the mouth of Rockcastle. His wife is a daughter of James Music.

GRASS AND SHADE.

The public square, with its grass and beautiful trees, makes an ideal resting and breathing place during hot weather. It is entirely for ladies and children to go and enjoy the seats and to run has been no misconception of any indication of promptly squelch-

Oil Matters in General.

Leasing activity is evident in a number of Kentucky counties where no drilling was done last year. Several operators are in the Knox county district and new work is being started there. Along Beaver Creek, in Floyd county, several wells will be drilled.

Field operations for the week were about up to the average. The Wayne county districts lead in results accomplished, four completions being registered in that district, the best being good for thirty barrels daily. One strike was made in the Lawrence county pool, of ten barrels capacity, while a good wildcat strike is reported from Floyd county. The Western Kentucky districts have contributed nothing in the producing line lately, but developments are just gaining good headway and the coming month will witness the completion of several recently started wells.

The Martin county gas belt, in Eastern Kentucky, will be extensively developed this year. A pipe line is now in process of building from that county to connect with the gas lines extending to Central Kentucky cities, and the additional supply may lead to further extensions of the Central Kentucky lines. More than $1,000,000 will be spent in the gas developments and extending lines to points of consumption.

Kentucky petroleum prices remain firm at 91 and 53 cents a barrel. There is little prospect of a decline from these prices, as storage oil is being heavily drawn upon to supply the demand, and the probability is that even higher prices will prevail to stimulate production. Kentucky's output is gradually increasing, and with higher prices operators are realizing more money than ever before.

The Quartet Broken.

Rev. Mr. Cree preached his farewell sermon to a large congregation at the Baptist church Sunday night and left Monday for his home in Louisville. Thus the quartet in Louisa ministers, Rev. Dr. Hanford, Rev. J. W. Crites, Rev. Archibald Cree and Rev. C. M. Summers, is broken. These men who are preachers of more than ordinary ability, had during the past year worked harmoniously together for the common good. There was no lack of fraternal regard, and each highly esteemed the others.

BIG COAL OPERATION.

Large Vein Recently Found Near Peach Orchard to be Mined.

There was formed in Ashland last week, a new coal company that will weave another link in the chain of prosperity for Ashland and North-eastern Kentucky. The name of the new organization is the Crystal Block Colliers Co. The head men of this organization are Attorney J. W. M. Stewart, of this city, and Dr. M. G. Watson, of Huntington. These gentlemen and their associates own 22,000 acres of coal land near Peach Orchard, Ky., and their plan is to improve and develop their properties at once. The new organization is a strong one and they are now planning to erect a modern coal plant on their property, which will be operated by electricity. The plant will be equipped with all modern machinery, picking tables and other apparatus for cleaning coal, and when completed will be perfect in every detail.

The Crystal Block Colliers Co., have properties that are considered very rich in their coal deposits, and the work of developing them and putting coal on the market will be started at once. Another good feature connected with the operation of this plant is the fact that their main offices will be located in this city.—Ashland Independent.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Only One Felony Conviction Thus Far.

Chester Ewing, Colored, Aged 16, Gets Two to Seven Years.—Three Weeks of Court.

The August term of the Lawrence Circuit Court began on Monday morning last and its daily sessions are held with the regularity and promptness which characterize the professional labors of Judge J. B. Hannah. The gavel fell at the usual hour on the opening day, and almost immediately the voice of the sheriff was heard calling the names of those who had been summoned to serve as grand jurors—the Big Dozen so much dreaded and so carefully avoided by evil doers and others who didn't want to tell all they knew. And if you heard some testify when they came as witnesses before a trial jury you would think they knew precious little. It did not require much time to impanel this jury. Read the following list and you will see that the present grand jury is an intelligent body of citizens and housekeepers:
John L. Vaughan, Foreman.
Lafe Kinser, James McKinley, John Ekers, J. W. Pinson, M. B. Sparks, Robert Hartman, Albert Hammond, Lum Moore, Milt Diamond, Wm. Layne and C. R. Roberts.

Judge Hannah's charge to this grand inquest was marked by force, clearness and comprehensiveness. It embraced in brief all misdemeanors and felonies, it was so simple in its terms that no member of the jury could fail to understand it, and it was delivered in a style that carried with it a conviction that the man on the bench meant all he said. These are, the NEWS thinks, the prime essentials of a good charge to a grand jury. Following the charge the petit jury for the term was formed from the wheel. These are they who will say whether you are guilty or not guilty:

C. M. Savage, W. F. Wilson, Ray Jones, John Hughes, V. E. Graham, John T. Griffith, Shuk Fugitt, W. B. Wheeler, U. S. Bishop, Dock Jordan, Mathen Batla, Lewis Savage, Jason Boggs, Noah Wells, Gid Williamson, John Frusher, S. F. Hannah, Strother Fitzpatrick, L. T. Thompson, W. T. Kane, Elisha Martin, Peter Miller, H. K. Moore, Wm. Johnson. The usual number of varied misdemeanors has been disposed of by fine, imprisonment, continued and dismissed, and the trial of felonies began Thursday. Among this class was the case of the Commonwealth against Chester Ewing, colored, charged with detaining a woman. The case was heard and the jury found the defendant guilty as charged. The penalty as fixed by law is imprisonment in the penitentiary two to seven years. The grand jury is still in session and has already returned several indictments. The attendance of non-resident lawyers is noticeably small.

Readers of the NEWS will remember that a few weeks ago it contained an account of the pursuit and arrest of a man named Sol Wright, charged with unlawfully detaining a woman. On Wednesday Wright was tried in the circuit court and acquitted. The prosecuting witness in the case was Mrs. Henry Akers, a daughter of Marlon Wilson, highly respectable people of this vicinity. Judge Hannah had learned that some of Mrs. Akers' relatives were in the lower hall of the court house and had made threats as to what they would do if the prisoner were acquitted. The Judge sent to find out if such threats had been made, declaring that he would have the parties placed under bond to keep the peace. After the prisoner had been discharged he was escorted by officers across the bridge to the toll house, followed by a few persons. When the toll house was reached Sheriff Carter let Wright through and kept the others from following. Wright lost no time in reaching the West Virginia shore.

Echo from the Drawing.

On the 27th of July last the Nash Clothing Co., held a drawing in which the holder of the winning ticket would receive a handsome dining room set consisting of table, chairs and a handsome set of china. The tickets were duly numbered, and duplicates were put into a box, well shaken, and the first number drawn out won the prize, if the holder of the corresponding number was present. The drawing came off as advertised. The first ticket drawn from the box was numbered 1259, and the holder of the duplicate ticket, Clyde Copley, was present, came forward, presented the ticket to Mr. Nash and was awarded the prize. Under the circumstances there was nothing else to do. Shortly after the drawing, however, it developed that along with 31 other tickets No. 1259 was the property of Wilbur Endicott, son of Rowland Endicott, of Webb, W. Va., who had received them with purchases made at the Nash Clothing Co.'s store. He had kept a list of the numbers and had sent the tickets to Louisa to be ready for the drawing. No. 1259 had been lost, and it was found by Clyde Copley about fifteen minutes before the drawing was held. Endicott made a demand for the prize, properly sustained, and it is now in his possession. He is a nephew of Clyde Copley's mother.

TWO BRANCH RAILROADS.

To be Built in Big Sandy Territory Next Year.

Cincinnati, O.—President George W. Stevens, of the Chesapeake & Ohio, in a statement to the Enquirer says:
"All the construction now under way is being pushed as rapidly as possible to completion. Beginning early next year two branch roads will be built in Kentucky. These new branches will aggregate between 25 and 50 miles.
"All of the coal developed in the Elkhorn and Big Sandy valleys passes through Ohio to the lakes and the West. The amount of this coal is steadily increasing. At the present time it is impossible to estimate the output per year. This coal is used by manufacturing industries of all kinds in the West.
In response to a question whether the C. & O. spent millions of dollars in "bottling up" the Kentucky coal fields and that the Louisville and Nashville had slipped in with an extension from the Lexington and Eastern is true, Mr. Stevens said:
"This is news to me. We have made no attempt to 'bottle up' the coal fields in Kentucky or any other place. We built the Big Sandy road expressly for the purpose of developing the coal fields in Eastern Kentucky. We have never thought of preventing any other roads that want to from coming in to these fields. The Louisville and Nashville could, if it wished, at any time get into these fields."

Mr. Stevens said nothing about any improvements that are contemplated on the Hocking Valley, which is now controlled by the C. & O. From other sources, however, it was learned that several million dollars will be spent in improvements of the road as soon as the present litigation is ended.

Bert Stuart Killed.

Bert Stewart was killed at Kenova, W. Va., yesterday evening by a Norfolk & Western train. No particulars could be learned. His body was brought to the home of his parents near Fallsburg to-day.

He was a son of Ellis Stewart and was about 19 years of age.

Submitted To Serious Operation.

Mrs. Lacey Branham, of this county, recently submitted to a very serious operation for relief of abdominal trouble. During the operation it was found necessary to remove the appendix also. The operation, which was done by Dr. J. B. Bartram, of Ashland, assisted by Dr. Ira Wellman, of this city, was entirely successful and the patient is doing well. The patient is a daughter of Crit See, of the Point, and the work was done at his residence.

Apportionment of School Fund.

The apportionment of the school fund among the counties has been completed by the Department of Education. The apportionment from the State amounts to $4 for each pupil, but to this is added the county's share of the dog tax and bonds, so that every county has more than $4 per capita. Livingston county, with an apportionment of $4.39, leads. Jefferson county receives only $4.02, because the dog tax collections amount to only $1,147.06.

The compilation of the apportionment involved 10,000 calculations, dividing over $3,000,000 among more than 11,000 schools. This year, for the first time, it balanced to a cent.

The apportionment of some of the counties is as follows: Lawrence, per capita, $4.24, $29,554.11. Floyd, $4.15, $30,148.67. Johnson, $4.02, $27,452. Knott, $4.14, $18,645. Magoffin, $4.72, $21,168. Martin, $4.19, $11,306. Pike, $4.23, $52,047.

Seriously Hurt.

On Wednesday last John Poteet, aged 7 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Poteet, this city, ran into an obstruction while riding his tricycle. In the fall which followed the boy was badly hurt near the left groin. An abscess was formed over the large artery of the thigh and has been the cause of considerable trouble. Dr. Burgess is attending the boy.

Steele Again in Limbo.

Probably a year ago one Tom Steele, of Blaine, was in a crowd of which Pleas Boggs was one. Tom thought Pleas looked like he might, with the proper sort of music, dance a pretty good hickory, so he ordered him to knock off a step or two. To furnish the accompaniment Steele began to fire his trusty and rusty 38, seeing how close he could come to Boggs' feet. One ball went so close it went into Pleas' heel, making a bad wound. Steele was arrested and placed in the county jail. Shortly after his incarceration Steele, with several others, stole away and went to Ohio. Some of the people who lived in the neighborhood where Steele formerly lived learned that the fugitive was in Columbus. A requisition was procured, and on Tuesday night he was brought back and again placed in jail where he is awaiting trial.

MAGOFFIN DEVELOPMENT.

Big Gas Wells and Good Railroad Prospects.

The Burning Fork Development Company, a West Virginia corporation, completed their 5th well a week ago, which proved to be like the others, an enormous gasser. The company has secured a franchise from the town of Salyersville for 20 years and will furnish gas at a very liberal rate to the people of the town. They have secured the right of way for a pipe line and will begin laying the line in a few days, over 100,000 pounds of pipe having already been shipped to Cliff to be hauled at once to Burning Fork. They have leased the large business house owned by Fred Prater, which they will convert into an up-to-date office.

The Eureka Oil and Gas Company, of Salyersville, holding several thousand acres under lease on the Burning Fork, contemplate an early development of their holdings.

The large encampment of B. & O. engineers located above town makes us imagine that we can hear the tinkle of the bell and the scream of the whistle as the locomotive plunges into the black jack depths of Licking's primeval forest which long ago was declared a navigable stream from head to mouth by the grace of God and the legislature of Kentucky.

Col. John C. Homer, General Superintendent of the K. N. & S. Ry., which is to be an extension of the B. & O., is resurveying the line from Portsmouth, Ky., and it at this time in Magoffin county. We now understand from good authority that work will begin on this line at once.—Paintsville Herald.

William Flinn, Roosevelt leader in Pennsylvania, was also flayed by Penrose, who charged that Flinn had offered $2,000,000 for a seat in the United States Senate and has requested Archbold's aid in securing the place.

The farmer who grows three ears of corn where two grew before may not be altogether a public benefactor, but he is doing a profitable piece of work for himself. The news from the cornfields is that three fat, well-developed ears on one stalk is a very common sight. In some gardens the stalks have grown

New York, Aug. 22.—All world's record for shorthand speed was broken here to-day, when Nathan Behrin, official stenographer of the New York Supreme Court, and formerly official reporter at police headquarters, wrote on an average of 278 words a minute. The previous world's record was 269 words a minute.

Mr. Behrin also made a new world's record for accuracy, having a percentage of 97.3-10. He was awarded a silver cup. John D. Carson, of Chicago, was second, and Charles L. Swen, of New York, third.

Twenty-one writers entered the contest, but the test was so severe that only five qualified. The dictation matter consisted of a lecture, a charge to a jury, and court testimony, the rate of speed being respectively 200, 240 and 280 words a minute. A small penalty was imposed for each material error in the final transcript. Behrin's percentage of accuracy on the 280 words the minute matter was 98.7-10, a new record. The contest was conducted under the direction of the National Shorthand Reporters' Association, whose annual convention is being held here.

DAIRY FARMING.

During the past summer the members of the staff of the Dairy Department of the Agricultural College have been making frequent visits to the dairy farms of Kentucky. The methods followed on each farm and the equipment used, have been closely studied, and a large amount of data has been collected, that will prove of vital interest to the dairymen when it is published in bulletin form a little later. Without exception the dairymen have entered heartily into the spirit of the investigation and they have contributed willingly of their store of useful information, which has been gained by long experience. Before the survey is completed more than one hundred dairy farms will have been visited.

Some significant facts have already been clearly brought out. In producing milk and butter for the market it has been found that the dairymen are making more money from medium priced than from high priced cows. Some of the most profitable herds have been built up by the use of good grade cows and the constant use of a pure bred bull, and the raising of the best helpers. Some dairymen have made considerable money by buying young helpers and rearing them for the dairy.

Two or three localities visited furnish examples of the advantages of community breeding. In one county (Shelby) hundreds of Jersey cattle find a ready market each year at very attractive prices. Jerseys are bred on nearly every farm in that community, and this fact attracts buyers from all parts of the United States, who can readily buy a car load, thus effecting a material saving of time and securing lower freight rates on car load lots.

An interesting point is connected with the methods and cost of rearing the dairy calf. Some of the best herds visited were made up of heavy milking cows, the feed of which, during the first months of their lives consisted almost exclusively of skimmed milk, supplemented by a little shelled corn and bran, with pasturage in summer and hay in winter. A few dairymen, who breed fancy stock, use whole milk as a calf feed, but it has been our observation that as healthy and as strong cattle can be reared on skimmed milk, if the skimmed milk is kept as clean as is the whole milk, and if it is fed warm to the calves. Some dairymen are successfully replacing a large part of the milk with milk substitutes in the feeding of calves. In some cases two calves are permitted to suck a fresh cow, a third calf being given to the cow when she weans the first two.

It has been found that the dairymen receive on an average the following prices for dairy products in this state: 20 per cent cream 75c a gallon. Milk 11c in summer and 16c in winter, when shipped to the city milk dealer. Dairymen who retail their own milk in the cities retail it at 25 to 30c (some times 40c) a gallon. Butter milk (retail) 10c a gallon. Many dairymen near Louisville and Cincinnati use grade cows (mostly Shorthorn and Holstein grades) purchased at the stock yards, buying them fresh, and selling them after fattening when dry. They claim to average 2 to 2 1/2 gallons of milk per cow per day during the entire year.

The cost of rearing a heifer to time of first calf was found to average between $30 and $35. One of the largest and best dairy farms in Kentucky has a $1200 milking barn, with concrete floor, and a $1500 rest shed, where the cows are kept, fed and watered. This man has no 62 cows, and last winter had 80. The rest shed adjoins the milking barn, with a shed and hay loft between shed and barn. The silage machine, engine, and silos are arranged in this shed. Everything is kept under cover. Two 16 by 30 ft. silos, made of wood by the dairymen himself cost $150 each six years ago. A 30 by 16 ft. concrete silo erected two years ago cost $235. For eighty cows this dairymen used 100 tons of straw annually in bedding. But the cows are kept cleaner than if they were kept in their stalls all of the time in winter.

The greatest drawback to dairy farming in this section is the scarcity of labor. The usual wage is $30 to $35 per month with house and small garden.

Wonderful Cures Reported in Germany.

The use of simple herbs as remedies instead of the more concentrated and usually more dangerous inorganic substances, has been revived very widely of late. In Germany a new school of physicians has arisen which throws out almost a whole of the pharmacopoeia and relies on an adaptation of the method of wild animals in curing themselves.

It was Dr. K. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., who first advocated the extended use of some of our native roots, such as: Golden seal and Oregon grape root, mandrake and queen's root, black cherrybark. These are the chief ingredients in Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so well and favorably known for nearly half a century. A harmless cleanser and stomach tonic that nature has provided.

J. DONALD MATHESON of Ossining, N. Y. says: "I suffered for over five years with what the doctors told me was dilated condition of the stomach, associated with a catarrhal condition of the bowels, and nervous heart. I had tried enough nux, bismuth, gentian, rhubarb, etc., to float a ship and naturally thought there was no cure for me, but after reading what eminent doctors said of the curative qualities of the ingredients of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I gave it a fair trial. Took the 'Discovery' and also the 'Pleasant Peppermint' and can truthfully say I am feeling better now than I have in years. I cheerfully give permission to print this testimonial, and if any 'doubting Thomas' writes me I will 'put him wise' to the best all-around medicine in the country to-day."

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
WOODROW WILSON, of New Jersey
For Vice President,
THOS. R. MARSHALL, of Indiana.
For Congress,
W. J. FIELDS, of Carter County.

The Waterbury, Conn., Republican advises its readers to vote for Taft, pray for Roosevelt and bet on Wilson.

The State Prison Board has made arrangements with the Kentucky Children's Home Society to take charge of children, not delinquents who may be sent to the School of Reform.

As an evidence of the confidence of the business interests in the Democratic party the NEWS invites attention to an advanced stock and bond market in the face of the certainty of a Democratic President.

According to the Louisville Times those in charge of the Republican campaign in Kentucky are firmly convinced that the "Bull Moose foolishness" will play out as soon as the hypnotic influence wears off and they "come to."

The man in McCracken county who recently became the father of triplets at the age of sixty, is very much like whisky—improves with age.—Cadiz Record.

This depends very much on the point of view.

General Lawrence, of the Prison Commission, and who edits the Cadiz Record, in Trigg county, right in the heart of the tobacco district, has the courage of his convictions and says: The penitentiary is the place for the fellow who wants to renew the night rider troubles throughout this section, and he should be sent there if he persists in his lawless course.

Both houses of Congress adjourned sine die at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The Senate yielded to House protests against "State" claims and passed the general deficiency bill with the claims eliminated. The Penrose resolution providing for further inquiry into Standard Oil campaign contributions and including alleged contributions of

George W. Perkins was passed. The total appropriations for the fiscal year 1913, which began July 1, 1912, amount to $1,019,636,143.66.

Three noted women have shot their husbands and been acquitted during the last six months.

This would indicate that the season for hunting husbands is now open.

Over in Salyersville the other day some militia who had been target shooting fired a volley near town and nine-tenths of the inhabitants took to their cellars. They thought another man had been shot.

The friends all over the State of former Congressman James N. Kehoe, of Maysville, deeply sympathize with him in the death of his daughter, who had just reached womanhood. While her death had been expected for some time, his loss is keenly felt by the devoted father. Mr. Kehoe is the Ninth district member of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, but has been prevented from meeting with his colleagues or taking any part in the campaign by reason of the illness and death of his daughter.

The report comes from Eastern Kentucky that Judge Theo. Blakey of Beattyville, will certainly be a candidate on the "Bull Moose" ticket for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the Seventh Appellate district at the coming November election. Judge Blakey, who was second assistant Attorney General in the last State administration, was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Appellate Judge, but withdrew a few weeks before the State primary, leaving Judge A. J. Kirk, of Paintsville, a clear field. Judge Blakey then joined the "Bull Moose" movement and had been prominent in the councils of the new party. It is said that Judge Blakey got out of the Republican primary to keep from getting the g. o. p. nomination, and that he will show Judge Kirk a "trick or two" at the coming regular run-off in November.—Louisville Times.

Through the good work of Congressman W. J. Field Albert Murray, of this city has had his pension increased to $24 a month. The increase became effective August 21.

LARGE DEVELOPMENTS.

Whitesburg, Ky.—That the Mineral Development Company, a Philadelphia corporation, is preparing for extensive developments in its large holdings on Younts Fork, of Boone, above here, and also on Moores Branch, is assured. Recently a deal has been on between the Mineral Development Company and the Consolidation Coal Company, which is building the cities of Jenkins and McRoberts, the latter exchanging its coal holdings on Mounts Fork, consisting of several thousand acres, for the Mineral Development Company's holdings on Wright's Fork, near the new city of McRoberts. This deal, which has been completed, gives the Mineral Development Company a solid block of 15,000 acres of coal lands on Younts Fork, while the Consolidation Coal Company now owns the whole of Wright's Fork, a solid block of 18,000 acres.

It is announced here by officials of the Mineral Development Company that actual work looking toward the development of its Younts Fork holdings will be started at once. A three-mile branch line from the main line of the Lexington & Eastern will be rushed to completion. This company will build a model mining city, similar to the industrial city of Jenkins, being constructed on Elkhorn, preliminary surveys now being made for the future city. At least $1,000,000 will be expended in these developments. Developments will also be made of their Moores Branch property.

NEW FEATURE.

An experimental feature in connection with the county Teachers' Institutes has been tried so successfully in five counties this year by Commissioner of Agriculture Newman, with the co-operation of the Department of Education, that it will probably become a permanent part of the institutes. He sent Miss Ivy Scott, head of the Domestic Science department of the Western Normal School, and Prof. Lowell Roubush, agricultural expert, of Ohio, to institutes in Hancock, Ohio, Calloway, Oldham and Carlisle counties to lecture at the institutes. They reported large attendance and lively interest. The object is to get the patrons and teachers of rural schools together in order that the schools may be brought into closer touch with community life and needs.

OBITUARY.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Clark feel very deeply the loss of their little end only child, Emma Mae. She was born June 13th 1910, and died August 14th 1912, and was two years, two months and three days old. Though a delicate child she was sick but a short time, playing about and interesting herself almost to the last. Her spirit left as if an angel had suddenly dropped from heaven and taken her away. Her name was on the Cradle Roll of the M. E. Sunday school, and only a few days before her death the certificate of her membership had been signed by the officers of the school. The funeral services took place on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Aug. 18th and were simple and beautiful. The whole school was present, and many other friends. Many beautiful flowers were sent and adorned the little casket and the little grave.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Louisa Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is.

Now supposing you had a bad back.

A lame, weak, or aching one. Would you experiment on it?

You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from far-away places.

It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony.

Read this case:

E. G. Cordell, retired farmer, Lock Ave., Louisa, Ky., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me so much good that others in my family have also taken them. They have given entire satisfaction. My kidney, were in bad shape and the kidney action was irregular. My back ached. The use of Doan's Kidney Pills drove away the pains and regulated the kidney action."

METALLIC CARTRIDGES

Shoot to Hit

The Remington Club hang up a new shooting record.

More—Their Use Guarantees the Life—the Continued Accuracy of your Arm.

96 years of gun-making—50 years of cartridge-making have taught us—

To make cartridges noted for straight-shooting—hard-hitting—sure-fire. To attain ammunition accuracy without impairing gun accuracy. To make for each kind of arm the cartridge it requires to shoot its best—and to keep shooting its best.

There is a Remington-UMC cartridge specially made for your rifle—your pistol. Every Remington-UMC cartridge is tested in the arm for which it is made. Our Guarantee is behind these cartridges—and behind any standard arm, to the full extent of the maker's own guarantee, when these cartridges are used. Shoot the cartridges that shoot straight. Shoot the cartridges that keep your gun shooting straight. Shoot Remington-UMC cartridges.

Double Tracking The C. & O.

Double tracking of the Cincinnati division has been finished, giving the C. & O. double track from that city to Newport News, Va., 665 miles. The Cincinnati division formerly bore the distinction of handling the heaviest traffic of any one-line road in the world.

The road is now in a position to move traffic without any delays. Last year the traffic was so heavy on the Cincinnati division that the road cut off all excursions, as it was found that they interfered with the movement of traffic on Sundays, the day that the operating department used to "clean-up" freight.

The movement of traffic is also being facilitated by thirteen Mikado locomotives, which have just been received on the Cincinnati division, to handle freight. In the near future ten more of this type of motive power will be received. These locomotives have a hauling capacity of 5,600 tons, where the capacity of smaller locomotives is about 4,000 tons. Officials of the road state that they hope to be able to increase the trains hauled by the Mikados to 6,500 tons on the Cincinnati division.

Veteran Masonic Officer Dead.

Capt. H. B. Grant, Grand Secretary of the Kentucky Grand Lodge of Masons and Grand Chapter, and Grand Recorder of the Grand Council of Kentucky, died at 5:30 o'clock Monday morning at his residence, 2823 Virginia avenue.

Capt. Grant's death was due to pneumonia, from which he had been a sufferer for a little more than a week. He had been sinking steadily for twenty-four hours, and his death was expected. Capt. Grant was 73 years old.

BIG SANDY IMPROVEMENTS.

The Chesapeake and Ohio will reconstruct 80 miles of its Big Sandy Division. Heavier rails and additional ballast will be laid. This division runs into Elkhorn City, Ky., toward which the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio is now building its line from Dante, Va., and the coal traffic that will come through the Northern outlet of the Clinchfield will be handled over the Big Sandy Division to Ashland, from which some of it will be diverted through the Cincinnati gateway for the haul to the Great Lakes.

M. E. CHURCH.

Next Sunday will close the Conference year, and four years service of Dr. Hanford, the pastor, and at the same time the six years term of Rev. J. M. Ackman, D. S. Mr. Ackman will preach Sunday morning, and assist in administering the Holy Communion. All believers in Christ invited to commune. At night Dr. Hanford will preach on: "The Right Kind of Come-out-ism." Give him a candid hearing and judge for yourselves.

475 AND TRIMMINGS.

The 475 means dollars and "trimmings" means at least 50 more dollars in costs. This is the result of one day's proceedings in Circuit Court so far as Dave Williams illegal retailer of booze, is concerned. He paid $300 into court and replevied the remainder. With Judge Hannah and the present jury the way of the transgressor is both rocky and thorny.

DEATH OF A CHILD.

Glenn, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kirk, died on Wednesday morning at the home of George Atkins, this city, after a long illness caused by bowel trouble. On Thursday afternoon the body was taken to Glen Hayes, the home of the parents, for interment. Glenn was a bright, interesting boy, the only child. He would have been two years old in October.

FOUND DEAD.

Jim Spradlin, who has been a resident of Paintsville for a number of years, was found dead on Greasy last week. The old gentleman was subject to heart trouble and it was supposed that he had an attack of this disease and was drowned, as he was found in a branch dead. Paintsville Herald.

Ruling As To Pensions.

The Confederate Pension Department has made a ruling that no veteran is entitled to a pension who has children to support him. A number of applications have been rejected on this account and a rigid examination will be made of all applications now pending to ascertain whether the applicants are actually in need of assistance from the State.

Will Go To The Philippines.

Maj. W. O. Johnson, U. S. A., who had been here several weeks visiting his mother, left Friday for Morgantown, W. Va., where his wife and daughter are. He is under orders to sail for the Philippine Islands and he and his family will leave San Francisco for that country about September 7th.

HAPPENS TO BAD FALL.

Mr. Guff Wellman is suffering from a broken arm and collar bone, sustained by falling off a horse while on a drumming trip up Big Sandy Valley in the interest of Emmons-Hawkins Co., of Huntington. Mr. Wellman arrived home to-day noon and is now at his home on Oakland avenue to receive medical treatment. It may be some time yet before he will be able to resume his position.

Mr. Wellman has many relatives here who will be sorry to learn of his accident.—Cattlettsburg item.

An Accident And Its Results.

While Tom Hays was busy at work on the Yates oil well last Wednesday his left thumb became entangled in a moving wire. The end of the thumb was cut intirely off. When they heard of the accident two or three of Louisa's young "men" who had been for some time looking for more excuses for not doing anything more laborious than rolling cigarettes, firmly declared that nothing could tempt them to risk their valuable lives by work.

Volleys Needed Here.

A lady at McCausey drove some boys out of her peach orchard Monday, and had to fire a volley of shot at them before they would leave. But when they did go—wings would have been in their way.—Frenchburg Agitator.

In Louisa depredations of this sort have gone on until arbors have been entirely stripped of grapes, gardens of their melons, coops of their chickens and orchards of their fruit.

NOTICE.

There are two men named Allen Kinner on the Lawrence county tax book. This is the fault of the Assessor, not of the sheriff. Allen Kinner who complained in last week's NEWS had paid his tax and has a receipt.

Mrs. Perry Mannin, who lives at Greenup Ave., and 28th street attempted suicide last evening at 6:30 o'clock by taking corrosive sublimate. It was in tablet form, and her husband had bought it to use in doctoring his horse. The unfortunate woman is but 17 years of age, while her husband is 48, she being his third wife.—Ashland Independent.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Aug. 26.—Miss Iva B. Tuggle, 15, of Winchester, who has been visiting at the home of Roger D. Parsons in this city for the last three months, shot and killed herself this afternoon in Mr. Parsons' yard. The suicide was committed among some shrubbery, the girl using a revolver.

Mr. and Mrs. Parson were away from home and a note was found addressed to Mrs. Parson saying that she was in love with a Winchester boy and he had jilted her.

Whitesburg, Ky.—The State-wide primary in the new Letcher-Pike judicial district resulted in the nomination of R. Monroe Fields, of Letcher, by a large majority over Robert Blair. Fields' majority will reach about 1,200. The contest for Circuit Judge between Judge John F. Butler and Roscoe Vanover, of Pike, was close and exciting, the former winning by about 200 majority. Thousands of negroes, Italians and other foreigners voted in the district. It was the hardest-fought Republicans contest in the history of the mountains.

Salyersville is rather quiet this week. Last week the town had two great excitements. The State Guards fired few blanks while cleaning their guns at the Armory. It seems that almost every one in town, even to the persons who did the shooting thought something had "happened."

On the previous day the town was in suspense for hours while Jack Arnett and Bill McPherson, who is one of the Commonwealth's witnesses in the murder of Lee Patrick, were fighting and quarrelling. Many thought that there would be serious trouble but things are quiet. McPherson was tried and acquitted with Taylor Prater, who is a brother-in-law of Arnett, serving on the jury. So far as we know, Arnett had not been tried.—Salyersville Mountaineer.

Pike county will soon know whether, under the law, the resident of the county will have to work the county roads. Subject to the order of the overseer.

The test case will be heard by Squire Osborn, the defendants numbering eighteen. These men will appear before Squire Osborn on warrants sworn out by Overseer Oscar Syck and the result of the case will be awaited with great interest throughout the county. The defendants live in Magistrate Tackett's jurisdiction but the case was taken to Magistrate Osborn on a change of venue.

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 26.—Glenn Davis, aged 31, a marine engineer, died Sunday from a gunshot wound inflicted by Ben Tarr, aged 25, whom he was trying to eject from a picnic grounds at Fullerton, Ky., opposite here Saturday night because he objected to a bear dance. Pursued by a crowd, Tarr fired over his shoulder, wounding James Prince aged 11, then escaped.

Davis walked a quarter of a mile to a waiting automobile and was rushed to a hospital here. He leaves a widow and three small children.

A sheriff's posse, which includes some of Davis' relatives, all expert riflemen, is scouring the hills for the murderer.

To Whom It May Concern:

I, Milton Caperton, having been convicted April term Lawrence Circuit Court, 1910, of the crime of malicious cutting and wounding, and having been sent to the penitentiary for a period of from one to five years, under the indeterminate act and having served the minimum period of one year in the Frankfort penitentiary, will, on Tuesday, Sept. 3rd 1912, make application to the Board of Prison Commissioners for parole.

The average weight of eggs is about eight to a pound, so that a dozen eggs would weigh about one and a half pounds. A pound of eggs contains more nourishment than a pound of meat. There is no flesh food that may be served in so many palatable ways as eggs, nor as easily obtained by farmers. Eggs are a perfect food, containing all the constituent elements of nourishment.

A woman must wear No. 2 boots on No. 3 feet and she must manage to dress well on 75 cents a week, and she must be vain; and she must be kind to the poor, and she must go regularly to the sewing society meetings and be ready to dress dolls and make tidies and aprons for church fairs. She must be a good cook, and must be able to "do up" her husband's shirts so that the Chinese washerman would groan with envy.

A story I told of a married lady who compared her husband to a handsome piano lamp that he had presented to her. Her husband felt quite flattered until she mentioned the particulars of the resemblance. "Well," she said, "you know my dear, it has a good deal of brass about it, it is handsome to look at, it is not remarkably brilliant, requires a good deal of attention, liable to explode when half full, flares up occasionally, is always out at bed time and is bound to smoke."

.....
A good neighbor is always the most desirable of possessions, although in some cases their value is under-estimated. What constitutes a good neighbor is also frequently misconstrued, although the sensible acceptance of the term is, the neighbor who is friendly without being officious, helpful without being superfluous, and finally one who respects the privacy of others' household affairs by a certain degree of formality of manner.

We believe there would be more frugality in the homes if men would give their wives a reasonable amount of money for household expenses and let them have all they can save out of it for their own use; and men, too, would be better off then in the unmethodical and haphazard way in which most homes are run. Women would be more apt to study kitchen economy if they could see a reward ahead. A nation of thrifty men cannot be born of thriftless mothers. Women have need to know more of business, and think more of means to ends than is usual among them.

There is one class of laborers who never strike and seldom complain. They get up at five o'clock in the morning and never get back to bed until ten or eleven o'clock at night; they work without ceasing the whole of that time and receive no other emolument than food and the plainest kind of clothing; they understand something of every branch of economy and labor, from finance to cooking; though harassed by a hundred responsibilities, though driven and worried though reproached and looked down upon they never

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help, Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S. Kendrick, in a letter from this place, "and at times, I could not bear to stand on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer."

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good, and I thought I would have to die.

At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now, I am well, and can do my own work, don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm. There must be merit in this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—Cardui—for it has been in successful use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and disease.

Please try it, for your troubles. N. B.—Write for Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chas. H. Medicines Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Cardui Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

er revolt, and they cannot organize for their own protection. Not even sickness releases them from their posts. No sacrifice is deemed too great for them to make and no incompetency in any branch of their work is excused. No essays, books or poems are written in tribute to their steadfastness. They die in the harness and are supplanted as quickly as may be. These are the housekeeping wives of the laboring men.

The Editor's Advantage.
Did you ever stop to think of how many more whacks the editor gets at his victim than any other business man in town does? With the editor the whacking process lasts from the cradle to the grave. When a person is born, even before the preacher gets a chance to baptize him, the editor has congratulated the happy parents and has specified in extravagant phrases the weight, sex and pedigree of the new arrival. At the christening the editor often manages to squeeze out a personal item of interest to his readers, which is far better than the preacher can do for he has to charge up his labors to the Lord, who is far harder to get cash out of even than a subscriber. When the victim graduates from the town High school the editor generally expects to reap about a column of good reading matter and often prints a picture. Then if the victim gets married, the preacher gets five dollars worth of surprise for his readers. When Mr. Victim gets sick the doctor gets a faint chance of some day collecting a bill against him, but the editor has some cash news every day, telling the patients "many friends" how he is getting along. And then if he dies, the editor gets the most valuable news of all. Not that he is ever glad of the misfortune, but the news is worth money to him just the same. Maybe the undertaker gets a little more than the editor, but it is the only chance he has had at the victim during the whole career, while the editor has been pulling something out of him all along the line.

NOTES OF THE FARM.

DAIRY NOTES.

.....
Low down manure spreaders save labor.

.....
It is well-cared-for herd that returns the greatest profit.

.....
Discomfort and fright take the butter-fat out of the milk of any cow.

.....
Profitable dairying depends largely upon getting cows to eat large quantities of nourishing food.

.....
The yield of butter and of milk is greatly influenced by the amount and quality of the feed.

.....
Never complain about a cow eating her head off. The more she eats the more milk will she give.

.....
The man behind the cow is largely responsible for results. The best cow you ever saw would be a regular "good-for-nothing" in the hands of some men.

.....
Wouldn't it be a good plan to build a cement walk from the cow stable to the separator house before rainy weather sets in?

.....
Are you weeding out the unprofitable cows? This is the most profitable business in which a dairyman may engage. The times demand cows that are steady income producers.

.....
To make the best use of cow manure in the winter time the land must be prepared in the fall where the manure is to be spread as it is taken from the stable. It is expensive to handle manure several times and it is never so valuable as when spread on the ground while fresh.

.....
A good tight cow stable with dark green roller shades is a great comfort both to the cows and to the

.....
milkers, especially during August and September when the flies are doing their worst. Flies will not stay in a dark stable.

.....
In looking about amongst dairymen we find that stable conveniences are sadly lacking. Comfortable milking stools are very uncommon. Some stables have no shelves to hold the milk cans. Some dairymen haven't so much as a nail where they can hang up a smock.

THE VALUE OF THE DAIRY.

As an investment for farmers nothing is safer or more profitable than dairy cows. Milk properly handled brings returns every month in the year. It is the most profitable way to turn hay, corn stover and rough grains into cash. It is the easiest way to turn these raw products into a furnished market, while at the same time building up the soil so that it will produce more raw material.

Dairy products have increased in value almost continually for fifty years. During the past ten years the population of the United States has increased at the rate of about a million and a half a year. A hundred years ago more than ninety per cent of the population lived on the farms or in very small villages. At the present time nearly two-thirds of the people live in towns and cities. This shifting of population has worked a continual progressive change until most producers of food products have become consumers, so that at the present time each farmer must provide a living for three families.

Going back two hundred years we find that the population has doubled about every thirty years. This tremendous compound increase worried no one until recently, but now with a population of nearly a hundred million, supposing the same ratio of increase shall continue for the next thirty years, will the ingenuity and industry of the American farmer be sufficient to feed all the people or will we be obliged to reduce our scale of living?

A CREED FOR FARMERS.

"We believe in small farms and thorough cultivation.

.....
"We believe that soil loves to eat as well as its owner, and ought therefore to be liberally fed.

.....
"We believe in large crops, which leave the land better than they found it, making the farmer and the farm both glad at once.

.....
"We believe that every farm should own a good farmer.

.....
"We believe that the best fertilizer for any soil is a spirit of industry, enterprise and intelligence. Without this, lime, superphosphate, bonedust, or green manure will be of little use.

"We believe in good fences, good farm-houses, good stock, orchards, and children enough to gather the fruit.

.....
"We believe in a clean kitchen, a neat wife in it, and a clean conscience.

.....
"We firmly disbelieve in farmers who will not improve; in farms which grow poorer every year; in starving cattle; in farmers' boys turning into clerks and merchants; in farmers ashamed of their vocation, or who loaf around until honest people are ashamed of them."—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

THE ORCHARD COVER CROP.

Most large orchards which have been properly cared for have had clean cultivation all summer. We have now reached a time of year when cultivation must cease so that the trees will stop growing and the new growth have time to harden before cold weather.

.....
When clean cultivation is practiced humus is gradually worked out of the soil and it is necessary to replace it. The best of all crops for this purpose is clover but clover does not make much of a growth in the fall unless weather conditions are especially favorable. Not all kinds of clover crops agree with fruit trees. Some kinds of plants enjoy growing together in the same soil while other plants are not on good neighborly terms with each other. Generally speaking leguminous crops and fruit trees hob nob together on the best of terms. Each orchard man must decide for himself what kind of a cover crop to use.

SUMMER PRUNING.

We prune in the winter time or early spring for growth. An expert prunes in the summer time for fruitfulness. Any intelligent man with a little instruction can easily learn to do winter or spring pruning. He can soon catch on to the most approved way of shaping the trees to bear heavy loads of fruit without breaking down and to balance them symmetrically but the man who attempts pruning in the summer time must have more than a superficial knowledge of the work in hand or he will make a failure of it.

WILSON'S SPEECH HIGHLY PRAISED

Press and Public Men Join In Chorus of Approval.

DISCREET, ABLE, SAFE, SANE.

"Will Impress the Country Favorably," Declares William Jennings Bryan.
"Admirable Pronouncement," Says
Champ Clark—"Appeals Strongly to Every Legitimate Business Interest,"
Declares John W. Kern.

An Admirable Speech.
Hon. William J. Bryan—"Governor
Wilson's speech of acceptance is admirable. It is original in its treatment of the issues of the campaign. I am sure the address will impress the country favorably."

Appeals Strongly to Every Legitimate Business Interest.

John W. Kern, Senator From Indiana—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is a masterpiece, setting forth
with great clearness his conception of the work to be accomplished by the Democratic party under his leadership.
It is in complete harmony with the progressive sentiment of the country,
but also appeals strongly to every legitimate business interest."

Will Take High Rank.

Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives—"Considered from a literary standpoint, Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance will take high rank in the political output of the year. It will make pleasant reading and therefore will prove a fetching campaign document. He discusses the issues of the day philosophically, clearly and forcibly. Its courteous tone
will allay opposition and win him friends. It is an admirable pronouncement."

Battle Hymn of Democracy.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma—"The closing sentence of his speech will become the battle hymn of Democracy
in the pending campaign: 'I thank God and take courage.' It is at once a paean of praise and is a summons of patriotic duty."

Discreet, Able, Safe and Sane.

John E. Lamb, ex-Representative
From Indiana—"Speech is discreet, able, safe and sane. Governor Wilson believes in the efficacy of the scalpel
rather than the big stick. His dissection of trust and tariff evils is unique and convincing. His suggestions of reform in methods of government and reduction of tariff schedules will meet
with approval of legitimate business
and the laboring masses as well."

Points the Way For Justice.

Hoke Smith, Senator From Georgia.
—"I am delighted with Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance. It is a superb statement of the present purpose of the Democracy and points the way for justice to all through real progress by law under the constitution.
With his election assured, it should give confidence to honest business and new courage to those who need a square deal."

Lays His Soul Bare.

John F. Fitzgerald, Mayor of Boston.
—"Governor Wilson's acceptance is characteristic of the man. He lays his soul bare to the people and asks them
to join with him, irrespective of party,
in righting present wrongs without undue clamor or injury to legitimate interests. He lays emphasis on constructive thinking, and I believe this epitomizes one of the nation's greatest needs at the present time. It will be President Wilson overwhelmingly in November."

Progressive, but Not Wild.

Thomas Mott Osborne, Auburn, N. Y.
—"Governor Wilson's speech fits the occasion and the man—progressive, but not wild; sane, strong and unmistakably Democratic. It makes an inspiring opening of the campaign, indicating clearly and nobly the spirit in which the leaders of our regenerated Democratic party must work; not one of mere 'partisan make believe,' but
of honesty and justice toward all men."

Prophetic of Success.

Governor William H. Mann of Virginia—"I think it was an admirable
speech. It was wise, conservative, comprehensive, prophetic not only of Democratic success, but of Democratic supremacy for years to come."

Rings True in Every Sentence.

Governor Frederick W. Plafied of Maine—"It is a splendid presentation
of the issues for the American people.
It rings true in every sentence and in every word. It represents the spirit of the Democracy of today. It is the address of a statesman."

Admirable Presentation.

LABOR AND THE RULE OF RIGHT.

The working people of America—if they must be distinguished from the minority that constitutes the rest of it—are, of course, the backbone of the nation. No law that safeguards
their life, that improves the physical and moral conditions under which they live, that makes their hours of labor rational and tolerable, that gives them freedom
to act in their own interest and that protects them where they cannot protect themselves can properly be regarded as class legislation or as anything but as a measure taken in the interest of the whole people, whose partnership in right action we are trying to establish and make real and practical. It is in this spirit that we shall act if we are genuine spokesmen of the whole country.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

tion of the real issues upon which the campaign will be fought this fall. I think that it is bound to strengthen Governor Wilson among the thinking
people of the country."

Will Ring Through the Country.

Governor George W. Donaghey, Arkansas—"It was a great speech. It will ring through the country. It is just what he should have said. The people have never felt more confident
of success since the first nomination of Grover Cleveland."

Iowa For Wilson.

Judge Martin J. Wade, Iowa—"For
the first time since the state was admitted to the Union Iowa will this year
give its electoral vote to the Democratic nominee for president."

Jeffersonian to the Core.

John A. Dix, Governor of New York—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is marked with broad vision and clear thought, expressed in language every American can understand. As a business man and manufacturer, I am especially pleased with his positive and statesmanlike position
on the paramount issue of tariff reform and his demand for an immediate downward revision. In sincerity, precise statement and comprehensive grasp of great principles and their application of the fundamental needs of the country the speech is Jeffersonian to the core. It contains no appeal to passion and excites no prejudice.
Governor Wilson has presented to his party and to the nation clear conception of the truth that the real struggle in the pending campaign is between the concentrated powers of privilege and the aspiration of the American people to realize in their government and their economic industrial and social relations the full measures
of the principles of freedom, justice
and progress, upon which the republic was founded. To all the issues and every national need Governor Wilson applies the rule of right and common advantage. The reforms he advocates
are far-reaching, but they are necessary, sound and practical. The speech will awaken and stir the national conscience and lead to a triumph that will restore to the people the control of their government and inaugurate a new and happier epoch in the life and development of the republic."

Worthy Leader of Progressive Americans.

Louis D. Brandeis, Boston—"Governor Wilson's speech of acceptance is the utterance of a twentieth century statesman. With keen perception he recognizes the evils from which the people are suffering and the dangers which threaten our welfare. With broad vision he points the way by which those evils may be removed and the dangers averted. He proves his understanding alike of business and of social needs and that he is a Democrat
in fact as well as in name, and his courage is undoubted. Progressive Americans have in him a worthy leader."

Equable and Moderate.

New York Sun—"Governor Wilson's
speech of acceptance has good luck
as well as merit. It comes just in time to contrast sharply with the interminable bedlamite rant of Th. Den-tatus Africanus Ferox. And, if without contempt of campus it may be said, though written by a college president very recently retired, it is in the English language, not anemic and seldom with suspicion of priggishness
or donnishness, though it has an air,
a certain academic distinction of its own. What will please everybody who has a living to make is Governor Wilson's equable and moderate tone. Governor Wilson is for repair, not for destruction."

Partnership of the People.

New York Times—"It is applicable.
The dominant thought, the very soul
of his discourse, is the common interest of all the people, their partnership
in our activities and our prosperity.
The partnership idea comes from his mind not as a sublimated political theory, but as a practical, immediate remedy."

Straight to the Heart.

New York World—"Woodrow Wil-
son's speech of acceptance is the ablest,
clearest, sanest statement of high public purpose this country has known in a generation. Without passion, without invective, without abuse, without partisan bitterness, without denunciation, without of itself, without dema-gogics, it is straight to the heart,
it is the sup-

WILSON STANDS ON HIS RECORD

Josephus Daniels Invites Close Study of Writings.

SLANDER WON'T WIN NOW.

Chairman of Democratic Publicity Bureau Points Out Errors of Campaigns
of Previous Years and Finds a Good Moral—Roosevelt Also Wrote Books
and Made Bitter Attacks on Various Men and Classes.

New York.—Josephus Daniels, chairman of the publicity committee of the Democratic national committee, said
today:

"Eight years ago during the presidential campaign of 1904 I came to New York, and, being a member of the Democratic national committee, I dropped in at the headquarters of the committee. I found the literary bureau of the committee very actively engaged in perusing the volumes of Theodore Roosevelt. When I saw on every desk
'The Winning of the West,' 'The Life of Thomas H. Benton' and a half dozen others of the works of the then Republican nominee for president I wondered whether or not I had got into the right place.

"I was immediately set aright, however, when I was informed that the literary young men were engaged in culling from those books some of the many denunciations and bitter criticisms and attacks made by Theodore Roosevelt upon public men and measures and his aspersions upon great representative bodies of our people, such as workmen and farmers.

"I found them preparing to send forth broadcast all over the land such excerpts from the writing of Theodore Roosevelt as:

"Cowboys are much better fellows
and pleasanter companions than small farmers or agricultural laborers, nor
are the mechanics and workmen of a great city to be mentioned in the same breath."

"Mr. Bryan and his adherents have appealed to the basest set in the land—
the farmers."

"They (workmen) who object to government by injunction are not in sympathy with men of good minds and sound civic morality."

Hits Quakers Too.

"They quoted from what he said
about the Quakers, that those who would not fight were traitors to their country."

"They said that when the farmers
and workmen and the Quakers came to know what Theodore Roosevelt had written about them they would rise up with wrath and indignation and bury Theodore Roosevelt beneath an avalanche of votes. They said that Roosevelt would not answer that exposure of
his views, and, of course, he never did.
I agreed with them that it was the proper thing to do to herald these utterances through the country."

"As to whether or not that sort of campaigning had any effect the result of the campaign eight years ago speaks
for itself.

"The Republican party is attempting to do today the same sort of thing that the Democrats tried in 1908. The Democrats out-Rodenberged Mr. Rodenberg. They were eight years ahead of him in this sort of thing. It didn't work with us then, and it will not work with them now."

Stands on His Record.

"The attempt to attack Governor
Wilson because of certain statements
which he made in writing history and
in commenting upon events of history
as they appeared to him as historian
will fail signally. As one great metropolitan newspaper pointed out, Mr. Rodenberg and his kind are simply 'Blowing against the wind.' Governor Wilson is running for president on his record as a public man, and with that record the public is fairly well conversant,
and it will continue to learn more
as the campaign progresses.

"He is running for president on his record as governor of New Jersey—
what he said and did in that capacity
rather than what he wrote as a historian, chronicling events and commenting upon them as they appeared to an impartial observer whose duty it is to write of things as they are rather than
as they should be or as he would have them."

"Our Republican brethren are entitled to all the thunder they can make out of Governor Wilson's writings. I hope they will read them carefully and thoroughly. They will be able to gain a great deal of valuable information, and when the context is read along with the excerpts which have been taken from his works for the purpose of placing him in a false light
I have no fear as to the results. All that is needed is a thorough understanding."

"Ingersoll sought to disprove Bible truths and to assail Holy Writ by the same methods which the Republicans
are seeking to assail Governor Wilson."

The average business man has awakened to the fact that it is a good investment to give some of his time to political affairs. This is one of Democracy's best signs of victory.

Perhaps the Republicans, as represented by Taft, are satisfied with the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. But the majority of the voters are not.

TO KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS. (From Lexington Herald Aug. 12.)

It begins to look like there is a real chance to elect Hon. Ben V.
Smith to Congress from the Eleventh District. The Progressives
have put up a strong candidate in the person of a popular engineer of the Louisville & Nashville railroad,
who will necessarily divide the Republican vote with Congressman Caleb Powers, who seems to have lost out with all factions because of his failure to please either and his inability to land any of the prizes
for his constituents in the shape of offices. The people of his district have come to the conclusion that he is absolutely without influence in Washington and as a Kentucky Legislator once said of another "his people had just as well write a letter and kept him at home." At the last election Mr. Powers did not poll near the strength of his party, and this time he will fall short of his former vote. The Republicans no longer regard Mr. Powers as an asset but a liability, and think he has been "vindicated" sufficiently.

Conditions at present point to the election of Mr. Smith. He is popular with the Republicans and will draw many a vote from the conservative element of that party. The Democrats of that neck o' the woods
are short of money, however, to conduct the campaign, which, in a district composed of so many counties and requires much money for necessary expenses. In order to raise a fund Colonel Woodson May, State District Committeeman, editor of the Somerset Journal and manager for Mr. Smith, announced that he will attempt to raise money for the campaign in his district by popular subscription of one dollar and asks that all who want the Democrats to succeed in that stronghold of Republicans will send him that amount each. The effort is commendable and the contribution will prove an excellent investment. It is hoped that all who read this article and who feel able to do so, will send
Mr. May a check for at least a dollar and help the struggling Democrats of the Eleventh District to redeem it.

months of her sentence.

Shortly before killing, Hanley had married another young woman, and a few nights later he was killed by Miss Chapman, who gave as her defense that he was trying to break
into her apartments.

Hanley was a prominent young business man of Winfield. It is said that within a few weeks Miss Chapman is to become a mother.—Huntington paper.

Relatives of Tom Nesbit at Chattanooga received a telegram yesterday
stating that he had been killed by the miners on Cabin Creek, along with Tony Chapman. Both are either mine guards or strike breakers.

The message was sent from Cabin Creek and Nesbit's relatives had a grave dug ready for the interment of the body.

It is stated that the message even gave dimensions for the grave.

When No. 18 arrived at Chattanooga Friday Nesbit's grief stricken relatives were out to meet the train
and were ready for the funeral.

On hearing this report Ernest Gaujot, one of the Baldwin detectives called Cabin Creek on the telephone and learned that Nesbit
and Chapman were alive and at work—Mingo Republican.

Fred Dempsey, a well known
young man of near Lenore, was badly injured a few days ago by a man named Harman, against whom he had testified in Squire Hager's court.

After the trial Harman met the young man on the railroad track
about one mile from Naugatuck and shot him through the right arm.
The weapon used was a shot gun.

Dempsey was brought to the Wil-lamson hospital and Drs. Harris, Conley and McCormick, who attended him found it necessary to amputate the arm. The wound was a very dangerous one but Dempsey
withstood the shock of the operation
and is on the road to recovery.—

Peace in the strike district is no
nearer today than it was the first day the state militia was sent into the troubled district. If anything,
the situation is deepening and widening and no one familiar with conditions will venture to predict a time when the difficulty will be solved.

Virginia gives many shining examples, are so great that it seems the height of folly for men to be lured into the Northwest to raise apples when better apples can be raised at home and at larger profit. The apple production of the country is not only not keeping pace with the population, but is falling far behind.—Manufacturers Record.

Attorney J. M. Tiernan filed a bill in the circuit court Thursday enjoining the payment of an obligation
of approximately $20,000 and asking for the removal of two of the members of the county court—W. B.
Smith and J. S. Osborn. Judge Wilkinson granted the injunction prayed for.

It is claimed that the commissioners went to Terra Haute, Ind., about a year ago and purchased a number of bridge patterns and other accessories to road and bridge construction, amounting to about $20,000,
which were not needed and that the county had no funds to meet the obligation.

The court gave a note in payment
of the invoice there being no levy provided for the money to pay the obligation, and no funds on hand
with which to meet it, this circumstance constituting a violation of the state law, and making the commissioners personally responsible for the debt. The note given by the commissioners was sent to a Louisa,
Ky., bank, where the sheriff of Wayne county usually keeps money
on deposit, but the bank to which the note was first sent, found that it could not make the desired collection, and returned it to the bridge company. It was later sent to another Louisa bank, with no better results.

This preceded the injunction and impeachment action taken by Judge
Tiernan, and Prosecuting Attorney Hardwick, who joined with him in preparing and pushing the people's fight in the case.

These are not the only irregularities complained of, and it is said
that specific graft charges will be heartlessly preferred in numerous cases.

All three of the commissioners are Democrats, Mr. Counts, against whom no charge has been preferred
will retire January 1.

The grand jury last week returned true bills against Smith and Osborn and they have resigned as members of the county court. R. S.
Sansom of Union district, and Steve Staley of Stonewall district, were appointed in their stead.

J. M. Tiernan, John S. Marcum
and Prosecuting Attorney D. B.
Hardwick are for the complainants
while P. H. Napier and J. H. Meek
are for J. S. Osborn and Geo. S.

Torchlight and Three Mile schools will have a series of spelling matches in which a small admission will be charged to those not participating. Proceeds of this will be taken for a library fund. Everybody is invited to be present at first one to be held at Three Mile school house on first Saturday night in Sept.

Ed. Div. 7. Sub-Dist. 12. On Saturday afternoon of August 19, the young people of Tuscola had a picnic. There were twenty-four pies and one cake, the girls were wrapped in sheets and sold the pies going free. A large crowd was out and all seemed to enjoy the afternoon. The proceeds were $7.07. The money was used to buy books for school library.
ELIZABETH LESTER, Teacher.

Tuscola, Ky.

Div. 2. Sub-Dist. 3. My school has a census enrollment of 86. I enrolled 77 first week. Some of those whom I have not enrolled could not attend on account of physical disabilities. We are trying to be progressive and to make the people of the district a unit of interest for our advancement.

A school improvement league and a moonlight school are claiming our attention now and we hope we shall be able to report something done along these lines next time.

First examination resulted as follows: Fourth division, Charley Moore 72, Bascom Moore 68, Estle Moore 68, Mattie Johnson 70. Fifth division. Lulu Justice 98 3-8, Reuben Berry 92, Alka McKinger 80, Jane McKinster 78, Frank Moore 60, Hansel McKinger 59, Dove Ball 78, Elmer Moore 85, Fionnie Moore 83, Lydia Moore 80, Minnie Moore 80. These are a part of the grades obtained.
J. M. MOORE, teacher.

Ed. Div. 4. Sub-Dist. 13. Enrollment 1st month 67, census enrollment 70, enrolled five from another district.

Result of first month's examination in grade seven. Dollie Stafford 90 5-8. Grade five. Ollie Hyton 86.
DREW ADAMS, teacher.

Div. 4. Sub-Dist. 6. We are having moonlight school with great success have enrolled 23, some of them young people who can't come to day school. There were two who couldn't read and write any, but now can read and write very well school has been going on for three weeks.

We are cleaning and leveling our grounds the pupils join in with pleasure and we are doing fine work with our grounds.

We are planning on having a picnic Saturday night to help obtain a library as there is not a single book of reference in school but we intend to have a fine library before school closes.
JINIA MCGUIRE, teacher.

The average attendance the first month in Division 1, Sub-District, 11 was 90 4-15. The percentage of attendance based upon the enumeration is 99, but based upon the recent ruling of the County Board it is 93.

The enrollment for the first month was males, 47, females 53 total 100. State Supervisor, T. J. Coats has selected the Gallup school as one of the schools in the state in which to try pupil teachers.

Miss Blanche Preston and Mr. Arnold Childers are teaching the Primer, First Reader and Second Reader classes. They follow the instruction of the teacher and the work has a good start and proves effective.

Pupils have removed rubbish from the school grounds, cut briars and weeds and removed writing from the walls of the school house.

Miss Blanche Preston made highest grade in examination in grade seven, with general average of 83 7-12.

George Smith in grade five, made highest grade with general average of 76 6-11.
J. B. McCURE, teacher.

Report of First Month's Work.

Attendance is very good in most schools, especially in H. R. Skaggs whose census enrollment is 64 and school enrollment is 65. Luther Burton's census enrollment 65, school enrollment 72 and Oscar Prince's enrollment is 61, school enrollment 68.

Wm. Gambill, at Martha is doing things at manual training, has a full set of carpenter's tools and has made a work bench on which to do much manual work, has made shelves for lamps for his night school.

and literary, and will make a bookcase soon. He, Arthur Justice at Glenwood and Nora Conley at Webbville are much interested in school improvement Leagues and think they can have them at once.

Bertha Thompson, at Hicksville is introducing cooking by reading recipes to the girls and having them try them out on Saturday at home. Goldie Pennington's and Hattie Robinson's pupils are beginning to do sewing. They have blinds and sash curtains to windows, wash pans, towels, mirrors and combs in their schools.

In many schools I find many flowers on desks and beautiful pictures on walls. Also many are beautifying school yards by cleaning off bushes, weeds, etc., and doing some whitewashing.

Everett Thompson's night school certainly is worth attending all pupils can read and write but are studying and learning language and arithmetic. He has the most beautifully printed program I have seen, pupils can easily read every bit at the back of the house. If all teachers could realize the help of this program of recitation and study I think they all would make it at once.

THE SIGN OF A GOOD WAGON

OLD HICKORY

THE PROOF OF THE
UNEQUALLED QUALITY
OF THE
OLD HICKORY WAGON
IS IN ITS WEIGHT

EVERYBODY KNOWS the better the quality of timber, the more it weighs. Some of the greater weight of the "OLD HICKORY" wagon is in the ironing, but most of it is in the better quality of timber used in building it. Notwithstanding "OLD HICKORY" wagons weigh more, size for size, than other wagons—

THEY ARE EASIER RUNNING than any other wagons as proven by the testimony of hundreds of thousands of users who are putting them to the test every day and who write the manufacturers of them such letters as the one below.

"OLD HICKORY" WAGONS are not only made of better timber and better ironed, but they are more handsomely and durably painted than any other wagons.

HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF THEM in use every day rendering perfect service, proclaim their quality and value louder than any words can express.

COME IN AND SEE THEM on our floor and you will be convinced that the "OLD HICKORY" is the only wagon for you to buy.

READ THIS LETTER

Hamburg, Ark., Jan. 14, 1912.
Kentucky Wagon Mfg. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.
Gentlemen—I am a user of your "OLD HICKORY" wagon, and it gives better service and satisfaction than any I ever ran. I have been a wagoner for over thirty years, and have used all the following makes, and none others I can't think of, and the "OLD HICKORY" beats them all.
